

Forest- IN App User Manual

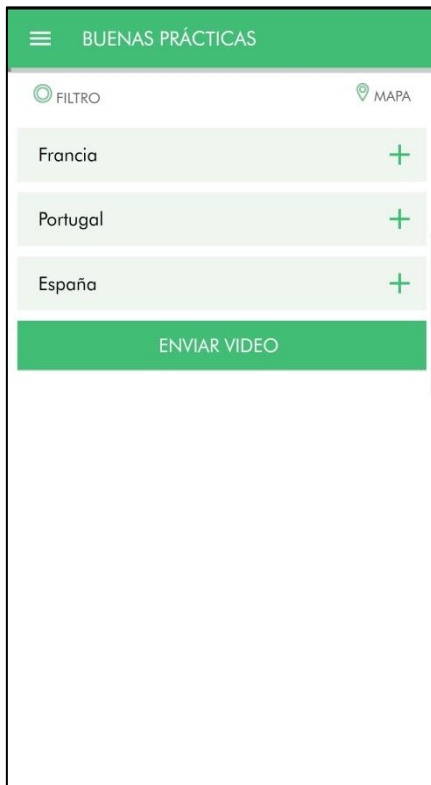

From the menu option, we can access all content information

To select the language, we will do it from the option Configure language, and we select one of them.

Good practises

In the Good Practices option, they are classified by country.

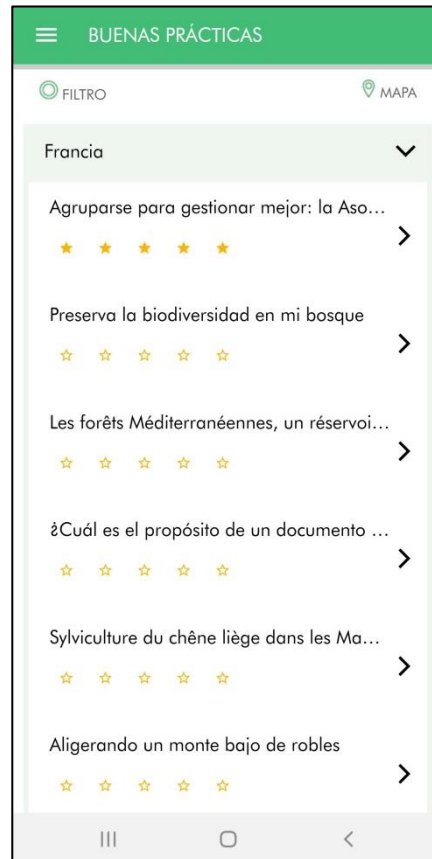

Opening each of the countries, from the button **+

When we select the country, we see all the good practices, associated with that country.

To see the content of each of them, open them from the button

In the Best Practices option, they are classified by country.

Opening each of the countries, from the button **>

In the information of each of the good practices, we have:

The menu VIEW, where we find the information of the Author, Tags and the Video.

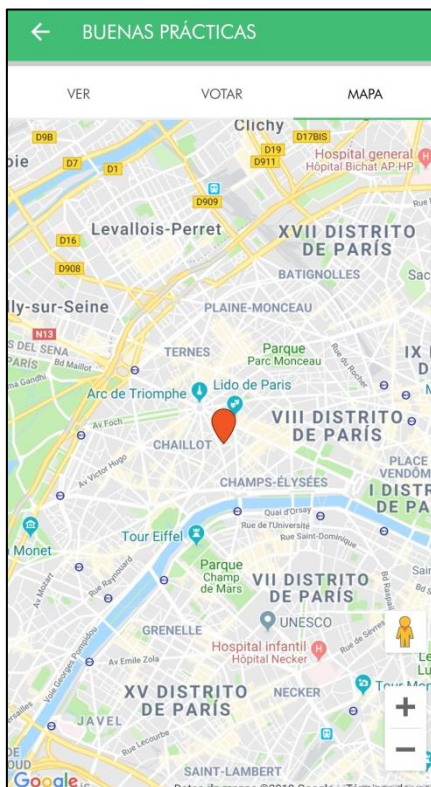

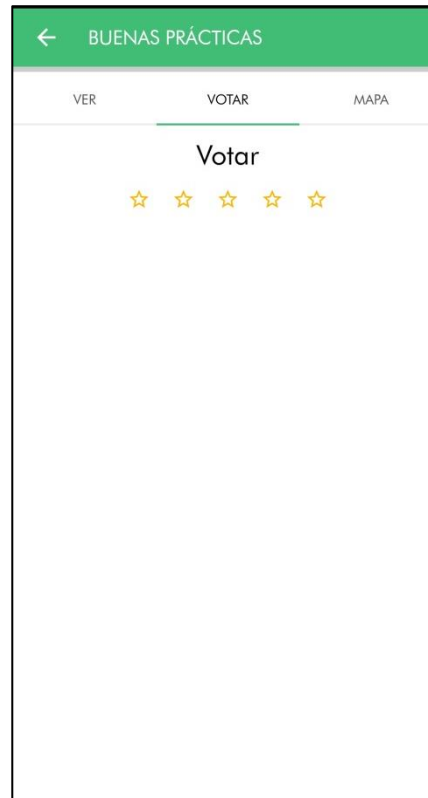

When we select the country, we see all the good practices, associated with that country.

To see the content of each of them, clic the button.

In the Best Practices option, they are classified by country.

Opening each of the countries, from the button

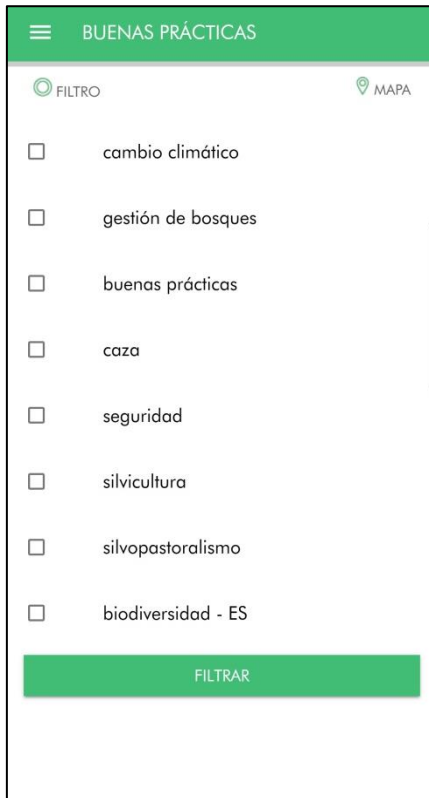

In the menu VOTE, we can give the rating to that good practice, marking from 1 to 5 stars.

In the MAP menu, we see the location of the good practice on the map.

We can zoom out or zoom in on the map.

Before we have seen the good practices grouped by countries, from the menu FILTER we select them by categories, or from the option of the MAP, we will see them all located in the map.

In good practices, you have the option of being able to send a video.
We fill in the fields of the form they ask us.
We select the video (we had to record it previously), and send the video.

After a validation process of the video, it will be added to the content of the Forest in website, and will already appear in the list of the app.
